Problem Statement: Tourism

A reputed tourism company is planning to launch a long term travel package. The Product Manager has access to the existing customers' data and information. He wishes to analyse the trend of existing customers to figure out which customer is going to purchase the long term travel package.